INSTITUTE MEETINGS

The farmers' institute meetings held in the Carleton place yesterday afternoon and Robertson hall last night were very successful. Large numbers of interested parties were present at each meeting. Addresses were delivered by Geo. Harcourt, superintendent of fairs and institutes under the Northwest government, by Dr. A. G. Hopkins, of the Farmer's Advocate, and by C. D. McGilvray, of Binscarth, Manitoba. At both meetings ample opportunity was given for asking any questions relative to the matter under discussion. A more extensive report of the proceedings will appear in a later issue of the Bulletin.

SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL

The social gotten up by the members of St. Joachim's church, in Houston's hall last night, was a very decided success. About twenty-five people were present. The first part of the evening was spent in progressive pedro, immediately after which a splendid musical program was proceeded with. Those taking part in the program acquitted themselves most creditably, and the numbers were loudly applauded. The object of the social was to bring the young people of the church closer together and to afford an opportunity to the many new comers in Edmonton to become acquainted with the other young people of the church. It is the intention of the committee to have a series of these social gatherings.

The first ladies' prize in the progressive pedro was won by Mrs. Geo. Roy, the second prize by Miss McAllister. Mr. Hugh McAllister won the gentlemen's first prize and Mr. P. Donovan, the second.

BRUDERHEIM

(Bulletin Correspondence.)

Editor Bulletin.—If you will allow us to write to tell you that the notorious member of parliament for this district, Frank Oliver, Esq., arrived in our midst last night, and we learn from reliable sources that he has been making a very successful tour through this side of the hills, even to the cattle schoolhouse, the enemy's stronghold in this part of the country. We would have had a much larger gathering there, only there was a wedding in the immediate neighborhood. But success to the wedding. Anyhow he got to us on time, and by the looks of things so were we. The big house of W. Honey was packed. It could not be otherwise when so many hardy sons of toil were anxious to hear our M. P. By their great demonstrations they must have been thoroughly pleased with his address and the manner in which he said the topics of the day before them, particularly provincial autonomy and the railway policy of the government. The climax of the evening was the appearance on the platform of Pastor Hagar. It certainly was a masterpiece of Mr. Oliver's to have him there. To say that he fairly captivated that large crowd in putting it mildly. Gentle as a child, but no less impressive, he was very interesting even to us who could understand hardly a word of what he said. At the close some gentlemen moved to a resolution endorsing Mr. Oliver's action in the past, and pledging our support in the future, and I never saw anything so unanimously adopted. One gentleman, very demonstrative, said that if ever a man deserved to be elected by acclamation it was Mr. Oliver. But it is better not, as we would lose the education we are getting and which we so much need.

Yours truly,
PIONEER.

STREET RAILWAY

Question Advances One Step—Powell's Claim Against the Town Considered—Other Matters.

An adjourned regular meeting of the Edmonton city council was held in the council chamber yesterday afternoon, commencing at four o'clock. Councillors Ross, May, Cushing, Fraser, Grierson and Picard were the councillors present. In the absence of Mayor Short, Councillor Cushing was voted to the chair.

The first matter brought up was the street railway question. W. G. Trethewey, who was present, laid on the table a draft of a suggested agreement between the company and the town. The report was read by the deputy secretary treasurer, Mr. Colling. The company binds itself to have two miles of the track laid within fifteen months and to have street cars running regularly from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. every day except Sundays. If the agreement is not signed before March 1st, the time above stated will be extended for three months. At the end of 15 years the town will have the option of buying the company's lines within the municipality. The rates are: persons over 12, five cents, under 3, cents. The company agrees to make a deposit of $5,000 as a guarantee that the terms of agreement will be carried out. The town will share in the net profits of the company to the extent of 25 per cent. A standard gauge railway will be used. Any differences between the company and the town will be determined by arbitration. The company's stock within the municipality will be exempt from taxation for a period of ten years. The company will have the power to distribute motive power, and any string such wires as are necessary for this purpose. The report was received and on motion of Councillor Picard and Ross, Councillors Cushing and May were appointed a committee to act with the city solicitor and discuss the agreement. The matter will then be brought up at the next regular meeting of the council.

Mr. Powell's claim for damages against the town was next taken up. The case was presented by C. W. Cross. He stated that Mr. Powell's company had been making a hundred dollars a month net profit and that would total $1,200 for the next 18 months. They were not positive that they would win, but thought they would. On behalf of Mr. Powell, Mr. Cross offered to take $900 in settlement of the claim, or was willing to submit the matter to arbitration. City Solicitor Beck, who was present, had advised the town that they were within their rights in selling water to the watermen, but thought the dispute should be settled on a basis of justice. A great deal hinges on a verbal agreement between City Engineer Armstrong and Mr. Powell. The matter was referred to the Fire, Water and Light committee, empowered to call in the services of any solicitor. Attached to this resolution was a proviso that the delay in waiting for Engineer Armstrong to return to Edmonton should not prejudice Mr. Powell's claims, if any. The committee was instructed to submit their report to the council at the earliest possible opportunity.

The Fire, Water and Light committee submitted a report regarding fire limits. The following meter rates were recommended:
For each quarter the rates will be: Up to 5,000 cubic feet, 25c per hundred cubic feet.

The committee further reported that they deemed it inadvisable to further extend the fire limits at the present time, unless a strong petition to the contrary be received.
The report was adopted and the solicitor instructed to prepare a by-law embodying the first part of the report.

—The ice harvest has commenced. A large quantity is being taken off the river.

—What Happened to Jones? will be played in Robertson hall on Friday and Saturday evenings. This company have played with very marked success in Calgary and other places.

—Thomas M. Scott, of Calgary, who was brought back from Montreal to stand trial for misappropriating funds of the Y. M. C. A., was brought up for trial on Friday. The case against him was dismissed.

—Mr. Vernon Barford's pupils will give their usual monthly recital tomorrow (Thursday) evening in the All Saints' schoolroom, commencing at 8.15 o'clock. They will be assisted by a quartette from the All Saints' choir, and Mr. Barford will play Godard's "At the Spinning Wheel."

—J. K. Cornwall is expected to arrive in Edmonton towards the end of the week from Cornwall and Brandon headquarters at the Lesser Slave Lake. It is reported that these trappers at this post alone took 29 silver foxes this season. The Hudson's Bay Company are reported to have taken 11 silver foxes.

—H. W. B. Douglas has received the order for a concert grand Heintzman piano for the new Sandison Opera House, Edmonton. This style of piano is the finest the firm manufactures. This particular piano is the same that Miss Helmer, the celebrated pianist, used in her recital in the King Edward hotel, Toronto, the first of this month. Jones, the Russian pianist, after testing it at the company's works, spoke in very high terms of it.

—Medicine Hat News—Medicine Hat people generally were pleased to see Capt. H. H. Ross again last Thursday. He left here last July on the steamer Asenboia, and has taken the boat down the river as far as Cedar Lake, near the river's outlet. Here he has been engaged busily in freighting for the fishing companies doing business there. The trade is a good one and Mr. Ross intends putting a steam tug at the work in addition to his steamer. One hundred and fifty miles of the trip out was made by dog-sleigh to Winnipegosis. The nearest post office is at The Pas, in Hudson's Bay post. Mr. Ross is looking well after a summer's sojourn on our Northwest waters.

—In place of using the Gaiety hall for this afternoon's meeting, Mr. Harcourt has made arrangements to use the Massey-Harris implement warehouse in order that live stock can be brought before the audience and the good and bad points, etc., in their conformation pointed out and discussed. This afternoon's program is: (1) Question drawer. (2) Care of the Brood Mare, Diseases and Accidents incidental to pregnancy, by Dr. C. D. McGilvray. (3) The Score Card for Dairy Cattle. (4) The Score Card for Swine. At the evening session in Robertson hall the program will be: (1) Question drawer. (2) The Work of the Agricultural Societies, by George Harcourt. (3) The Influence of Germ Life in Agriculture, by Dr. A. G. Hopkins. (4) The General Care of Sick Animals, by Dr. C. D. McGilvray. Great interest is being taken in these meetings, which will doubtless result in great good to those interested in live stock matters.

COLLEGE NEWS

(Bulletin Correspondence).
On Thursday evening Miss Peart, of Alberta, college entertained the ladies of the college at an informal evening in her home. The mighty mysteries of that evening are kept hidden from the eyes of the reporter, but a few facts have been learned. It was a very enjoyable evening, spent in games, music and refreshments. How the ladies got home is one of the untold tales of the story, but why should all the ladies now be inquiring "What's (What's) his name?"

We herewith reproduce the latest paragraph the latest attempt at letter writing on the typewriter.

Atle. Coll. Edmonton, Jan. 21th, 03.

My Dear Jack:
I tick with pleasure in answering your singularly lovely letter. This is my first attempt at doing so on a typewriter, but I hope you will be able to find it interesting and useful. Well, I am having a good time in college, but most of all, enjoy this work, especially Dear Jack, when to you, etc etc.

BEAVER LAKE WEST

(Bulletin Correspondence).
At last the winter season has set in in good proper style.

A real old time snowstorm set in on the evening of the 14th inst., which continued for 48 hours, during which time about ten inches of snow fell. Traffic, which has been somewhat difficult, owing to the scarcity of snow, will be now rendered much easier.

A large number of settlers of the district are in the woods getting out logs for lumber.

A McCauley's sawmill is now running.

The bulk of the traffic to town now goes by way of Hastings and Cooking Lake.

Quite an epidemic of influenza has been going the rounds of the district and is still very prevalent.

What seems to be far more serious, if reports be true, is that an epidemic of scarlet fever has broken out in the Northern and Willow Plains settlements. A number of deaths have been reported. It is said that the places where the disease is now running have been quarantined. It is thought that the infection has been brought in from Wetaskiwin.

Another interesting event that has recently taken place is the wedding of Mr. Jeremy Gladin, Jr., of Tofteld, and Miss Virgie Stumbo, of Logan. The ceremony was performed at Tofteld on the 4th inst., by the Rev. Father Bellevue, of Duhamel. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gladin wish them a bright and prosperous life together. They will reside at Tofteld.

Miss B. McKim, of Strathcona, is visiting friends in the district. Mr. Geo. Burdick, of Tofteld, has been laid up for a time with a severe attack of rheumatism. He is still quite ill with it.

Mrs. Daniel Francis has recovered from a severe illness.

At a recent meeting of the building committee of the Tofteld Presbyterian church, it was decided to go ahead at once with the building of the church. Orders are being placed for the doors and windows in town.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church at Tofteld, held their annual meeting lately and reported excellent work done during 1903. Quite a large sum was realized at the socials held during the season. The officers for the society are: Mrs. Mitchell, president; Miss W. Whillans, secretary; and Miss A. Henderson, treasurer. Several members of the society withdrew from membership to form a Union Ladies' Aid at North Tofteld in connection with the Presbyterian, Methodist, Anglican and Baptist denominations there.

The present pastors of the various denominations at Tofteld are: Mr. Herbert E. Thorpe, student missionary, Presbyterian; Mr. Frederic Cox, student missionary, Methodist; and Rev. A. J. Atkinson, Anglican.

There is no Baptist missionary here now. A Baptist Catholic priest from Duhamel comes through this district periodically ministering to the wants of the members of his flock, several of whom reside in this district.

Miss Iva Wood, of Tofteld, is the guest of her friend, Miss M. Story, of Lakeview ranch, South Beaver Lake.

Mr. D. McKenzie, of Logan, is visiting friends in Calgary.

The police patrol passed through here the other day.

Robargo Bros. sawmill outfit will saw this winter at Grassy Lake, Upper Ross Creek.

Mrs. Robert Logan, who has been suffering lately from a bad attack of La Grippe, is recovering.

Joe Fletcher, of Willow Plains district, has gone on a visit to Texas, U. S. A., to look into the facts relating to his brother's death.

Miss Lena Whillans entertained a number of her friends at a birthday party on the evening of the 8th inst. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Ingram have gone to Edmonton, where they will reside for some time.

A McCauley's sawmill will be established at the southeast end of Hastings Lake for the winter.

The schools at Logan, Tofteld, Northern, Amisk Creek, Grand Forks and Willow Plains are all vacant for want of teachers. Why is it that there is such a dearth of school teachers?

During the cold spell of the past few days the mercury hovered frequently around 30 degrees below zero.

January 22nd.

RUMOUR

Would have it that all the experience we have had in photography, by was gained in Edmonton!

The Idea!

Where such a thought was fathered (or mothered) we know not, and do not care to guess!

Our experience extends over a period of 7 years—a most vital period concerning present day photography, and has been gained largely in Toronto, than which there is no more up-to-date Canadian City in all lines. Many are the new means of producing the present day artistic photos that have been originated and proven valuable during three years. But, don't let us elaborate on our abilities, come a long and see for yourself.

We have for inst. (in an already much approved manner) the costliest and best appointed studio in Northern Alberta. You will be happy to pay us for the kind of work we can do for you. Costs you nothing until you are satisfied—if you are at all doubtful.

Our studio is opened at last and already we are not waiting for business—WE'RE DOING IT.

HOCKEY AND CURLING

Extensive preparations continue to be made for the Edmonton curling bonspiel to be held early in February. There will be seven splendid sheets of ice, three in the regular curling rink and four in the skating rink, which will be used by the curlers during the bonspiel.

More arrangements are being made for the tour of the Edmonton senior hockey club through Assiniboia and southern Manitoba. The hockey club have nothing to do with the financing of the trip, it being done by parties outside of the club altogether.

Remember the hockey match on Edmonton Thistle rink tomorrow evening, the second match in the Pedersen cup series. Edmonton defeated Strathcona last night, but tomorrow night's game is anybody's.

EDMONTON WINS AGAIN

Defeats the Strathcona Aggregation for the Fifth Straight Game This Season.

Edmonton administered the fifth straight defeat this season to Strathcona last night. The weather was mild, bright and pleasant and a considerable number of Edmonton people drove over to, or took the train for, Strathcona. A large number of Strathcona supporters were present. The ice was in splendid condition. There was a noticeable decrease in the amount of enthusiasm displayed in the earlier stages of the game, but as the Edmonton combination forced goal after goal on Strathcona the enthusiasm grew intense and finally ended in a deafening roar of cheering and yelling as Edmonton tallied their eighth and last goal to their opponents' five.

A change in the line-up was noticeable in both teams. Strathcona had on right wing last year's stalwart, Ritchie. Their old goal keeper was on the fence and Kent was moved back between the stakes. This proved a very decided help to the boys in the red and white. On the Edmonton team Eddie Sibbald played centre and Wright rover. This was an interchange of position which resulted in greatly increased strength.

The game started out with a rush. Strathcona was sure of victory and Edmonton was determined that the result should be otherwise. Each side scored a goal within a very few minutes. Edmonton succeeded in repeating the trick in splendid fashion. The play stepped down to swift hockey, with alternating success. Strathcona goal was hard pressed. McKernan scored the puck at centre ice and taking a long shot, lifted the puck into Edmonton's nets. This left the score 2-2.

From this on to half time the playing was very even. Blain showed up well. Dobson made splendid rushes and with Ritchie's help sent repeated warm ones on the Edmonton nets. Many were wide and Lenny raked the rest in with ease. Sibbald and Wright were riddles which the Strathcona players good as they are, could not read. Edmonton plays a splendid combination game, which is improving with every match. After several minutes hard playing Sibbald scored and rushed through Strathcona's defence, passing across to McDougall in front of the goal, who slammed the puck in the nets. Score, Edmonton 3, Strathcona 2.

From the draw off Dobson got the puck and rubbed. A few seconds' clever play tallied another goal for Strathcona. Score, 3-3.

The game, with the score even, grew very fast. Some rough checking was indulged in. McKernan caused several delays by persisting in kicking the puck. Wright was warned for doing some clever sleight of hand work with his feet. The crowd shouted their approval of Green's splendid playing. Bellamy, the woods splendid playing, cool but telling, scored when he skated broke up every Strathcona rush. Richards was sent to the ease for repeated slugging, but he had scarcely got his sentence when half time was called.

The score now stood Edmonton 4, Strathcona 3. During this half Edmonton scored twice and Strathcona once, but the goals were not allowed as they were scored from first to last was much poorer hockey. The game was entirely in Edmonton's favor.

Their combination was perfect, and completely outplayed their opponents. A short stop occurred, cautioned by Dobson and Kent getting their backs in contact with a hot shot from Sibbald, who had been behind McDougall the same moment. McDougall, who had been behind McDougall, rubbed and passed across to Sibbald, who was hitting into the net, scoring for Edmonton. Edmonton 5, Strathcona 3.

his brilliant checking. The little work Goodridge was called upon to do was ably attended to. Kent, in Strathcona's goal, deserves great credit, for he stopped numerous seemingly safe shots. Edmonton made a brilliant rush and McDougall hurried the puck in on Kent, who returned it, but Wright was there with the goods and tossed the puck into the nets. Edmonton 6, Strathcona 3.

Blain did some very plucky playing for the home team. Norm May did not show up as well as on previous occasions, but is a very strong man for all that. McKernan was brought forward and Ritchie put on cover point. Richards missed a couple of splendid opportunities for scoring. Dobson played the star game for the home team. The play lagged somewhat and Blain secured the puck near Edmonton goal and literally forced the puck into the nets. Edmonton 6, Strathcona 4.

Edmonton scored the next goal after a few seconds' play, by a splendid shot by Sibbald. Edmonton 7, Strathcona 4.

Another brilliant rush by the Edmonton forwards and the puck again flew from Sibbald's stick to its resting place in the Strathcona nets. Edmonton 8, Strathcona 4.

Time was nearly up and the Strathcona goal was receiving a regular bombardment. Dobson suddenly secured and rushed past the Edmonton defence, who were at centre ice, and scored for Strathcona.

This left the score 8 to 5 in favor of Edmonton and great cheering announced that Edmonton had clearly proved her superiority by winning the first battle in the campaign for the Pedersen cup.

The line-up of the teams was:

Edmonton	Goal	Strathcona
Goodridge	Point	Kent
Benford	Cover Point	May
Bellamy	Rover	McKernan
Wright	Left Wing	Blain
McDougall	Right Wing	Dobson
Greenwood	Centre	Ritchie
Sibbald	Centre	Richards

R. Aldridge refereed the match to the perfect satisfaction of all. The next match in the series takes place on Edmonton rink tomorrow night.

TRANSCONTINENTAL RAILWAY

Moncton, N.B., Jan. 22.—Hon. H. R. Emmerson, in his first public speech here tonight, since being appointed minister of railways, made an important statement on behalf of the government in relation to the Grand Trunk Pacific railway scheme. He said: "I should give you some assurance with respect to many statements which have appeared in the public press during the past few weeks in relation to that railway. You know it has been stated by many that Moncton is not to be the terminus, that be reason of certain modifications which have been asked for, and certain proposals which have been made, instead of a great transcontinental railway from Port Simpson in the west to Moncton in the east, there would be a line coming down only as far east as Quebec.

"It is unquestionably true that certain modifications have been asked for in connection with the contract made by parliament, but they are on the whole of a very moderate character indeed. In fact the people of Canada will be both glad and surprised, in view of all they have heard, when they learn of the few and reasonable alterations which are being asked for. I am not in a position to say just what these modifications are, it would not be constitutional usage; it would not be in accord with the position which I hold to make any attempt at this stage to enter into particulars, but there is one thing I can say, and I say it on behalf of the government of Canada, that there is no proposal to cut out the eastern section of the transcontinental railway.

"There is neither a suggestion nor a suspicion that this is even desired by those interested in the scheme and upon whom the burden will in a very large degree fall. The modifications will be submitted to parliament, and as I said to you, they will be very moderate and reasonable. You will realize this when the announcement in detail comes from the regular constitutional quarter. But before being submitted to parliament they will have to be ratified by the Grand Trunk Railway company, and when this has been done, and they are brought into effect, I am sure they will be found of such a character as to be in no way affect the object which the construction of the railway is intended to accomplish.

THE CAPTURE OF CASHEL

Without unduly magnifying crime or criminals there is no doubt that the capture of the murderer Cashel is an event of more than ordinary importance in the life of the Northwest. That the extreme penalty will be enforced in his case there is no question, and on that account it may seem like gloating over the death of a fellow-being to rejoice at his arrest. But the majesty of the law must be upheld if life and property are to be safe. Cashel had become the enemy of society. He had shed blood to serve his own ends—or possibly from mere wantonness—and his escape meant that not one of the lonely ranchers, of whom the Northwest has so many thousands, but was in equal danger both as to life and property, as was the murdered Bell. Such a condition would be intolerable. The world worships courage, and Cashel showed courage, determination and cleverness in his evasion of arrest and his remarkable escape. But his courage was that of the wolf, rather than of the man. And as the wolf is an outlaw in all countries, so a human wolf such as Cashel has shown himself to be must be dealt with as such. If civilized society is to be maintained, as long as he was at large there was no good object in referring to the circumstances of his escape, or the possibilities of a time that might result from it. But now that his arrest has been successfully made it is only to point out a few things in this connection with a view to their bearing on future cases of like kind. There can be no doubt that Cashel owed his very remarkable escape to the kindness of the treatment accorded him in the police prison while under sentence of death. Just as soon dealt with as he ought very well have been, there would have been no possibility of his escape. His treatment accorded him, which permitted frequent visits of his brother and which gave him the liberty of his cell was entirely creditable to the heart of the police authorities. But their duty is to the public, not to the prisoner, and while every kindness consistent with safe-keeping should properly be extended, the safe-keeping should be the first consideration. A man under sentence of death is necessarily desperate, and the duty of the authorities to the public demands that absolutely no chance on the safe-keeping of such a prisoner should be taken. Had Cashel made good his escape—as he almost certainly would, had the reason been summer—an example would have been set for men of his character that might have resulted in many murders. The only safeguard of the public in this country is the certainty of punishment of crime.

Next in aiding the escape of the prisoner, after the leniency of the authorities, was the cowardice of the three men in charge of him at the time. Cowardice is a nasty word; but no other will it, and sometimes it is necessary to call things by their right names. No doubt the men would have risked and perhaps some of them would have lost their lives had they attempted to prevent his escape. But that was their duty under the circumstances. In allowing the escape they failed in their duty and threw a shadow of discredit over their comrades which was only lifted by Cashel's successful recapture. The punishment which they received was certainly very light considering their crime.

Although John Cashel committed a serious offense against the law in aiding his brother's escape, his crime was only against the law, and was not against nature, as his brother's had been. He had obeyed the proper instincts of a man in doing as he did. At the same time his action placed society in grave danger, and could not be overlooked. His prompt arrest was most fortunate, and his punishment is certainly light. As far as matters have come to light it would appear that there are people in the neighborhood of Calgary who by no means veried idea of right and wrong, have for weeks been parties to the concealment of Cashel; who have practically made themselves partners in his past crime, and abetted him in any crime that he might have committed in future, had he had the opportunity. These people are the enemies of their neighbors and of society, differing only in degree, but not in kind from Cashel himself. These people should receive the full limit of the law as a warning to others against taking sides with criminals and against society should like occasions arise in future. Of the men who were finally successful in the capture, there is only one thing to be said. They showed courage and persistency only equalled by Cashel himself, and coupled with such case the reward should be substantial as well as sentimental, proportioned to the risks taken and the success achieved.
